

PARTNERS DONN ALEXANDER AND ANNE HOLMGREN OBTAIN FULL DISMISSAL

Jones, Skelton & Hochuli is pleased to announce partners Donn Alexander and Anne

Holmgren obtained a full dismissal following the conclusion of Plaintiffs' case-in-chief in a medical malpractice case. The case involved allegations of medical malpractice arising from the diagnosis and surgical removal of a lung mass. Plaintiffs claimed that our clients, a pathologist and her employer, negligently misdiagnosed the patient with lung cancer. Plaintiffs alleged this caused the patient to undergo an unnecessary thoracic surgery to remove a portion of his lung. Plaintiffs sought an award for medical expenses, permanent injury, pain and suffering, extreme emotional distress, and loss of consortium.

Plaintiffs alleged that our pathologist client was negligent for failing to review the patient's medical records from outside facilities, failing to request additional information regarding the patient's medical history and treatment, failing to identify that the mass was benign and instead diagnosing malignancy, and failing to consult with another pathologist. Our client maintained that she met the applicable standard of care in all respects, that there was insufficient evidence the patient would have avoided surgery even if her diagnosis had been benign, and that Plaintiffs failed to establish any evidence of pain and suffering caused by her actions. The case was tried in Maricopa County before the Honorable Randall Warner. Trial was scheduled to last eight days. At the conclusion of Plaintiffs' case-in-chief on the fourth day of trial, Mr. Alexander and Ms. Holmgren moved for a directed verdict in favor of their clients. Shortly thereafter, Plaintiffs agreed to voluntarily dismiss all claims against Mr. Alexander and Ms. Holmgren's clients without any settlement or payment made on their behalf.
