

Our intellectual property attorneys help clients protect their materials, ideas and work so they can reap the full benefits of their investments in innovation. In collaboration with our clients, we create comprehensive intellectual strategies to meet clients' business goals and to safeguard patents, trademarks and copyrighted materials. Our extensive experience involves an array of technologies, including software, electrical, mechanical and biomedical inventions, for all types of industries in all stages of businesses' lifecycles.

To be the strongest advocates for our clients, we continually monitor developments in the industry and are well-versed in the issues confronting our clients and their businesses. We work diligently to stay ahead of the frequent changes in the law and receive extensive continuing education in intellectual property matters, including patent procurement, prosecution, post-grant proceedings and re-examinations.

Our team has successfully worked with early-stage entrepreneurs to develop intellectual property strategies and coordinate efforts to prepare and manage patent portfolios. We also prepare and implement confidentiality and employment agreements that protect entrepreneurs' intellectual property rights.
