

To thrive in an industry undergoing rapid and dramatic change, health care providers require counsel who understand the demands and risks they face every day. The JSH Medical Liability and Health Care Group is dedicated to providing physicians, hospitals, nursing homes and other medical professionals proactive legal strategies that address their professional and business needs, while minimizing their risk of litigation.

Our team includes attorneys who have handled all aspects of medical liability and health care law, as well as full-time, in-house legal nurse consultants. Drawing upon 280+ cumulative years of experience, our legal nurse consultants provide all manner of litigation support, including conducting in-depth medical records review and research, identifying issues or manipulated medical records, creating medical chronologies for trial, interviewing clients and experts, developing collaborative case strategies, and so much more. All are licensed registered nurses in Arizona, and have extensive clinical nursing and medical administration experience.

The Group provides aggressive defense at trial and in arbitration, and is experienced in investigating and retaining experts, providing in-depth discovery, and preparing dispositive motions when necessary. We also represent healthcare providers and physicians before the State's Medical Board in actions taken against their licenses.
