REPRESENTATIVE CASES

- Defended employer against a National Labor Relations Board 8(a)(1) concerted activities charge until the regional director withdrew the charge without issuing a complaint.
- Represented clients at hearings in Maricopa County Superior Court, creditors' meetings in Bankruptcy Court for the District of Arizona to question the debtor, and in judgment debtor's exa--minations.
- Defended clients in toxic tort cases with large number of defendants.
- Drafted appellate briefs for filing in the Arizona Court of Appeals and Ninth Circuit Court of Appeals related to insurance bad faith and breach of contract.
- Researched legal issues arising out of liquidated damages, judicial estoppel, EAJA, FRCP 60(b) standard of review application, bad faith, judicial dissolution of limited liability companies, wrongful termination, lien claims, ownership in limited liability companies, A.R.S. §§ 38-431-431.09, and other contract issues.
- Obtained summary judgment on behalf of a moving equipment and storage rental company in a negligence action brought by a renter who claimed damages and emotional distress damages before the Commercial Tribunal of the American Arbitration Association. Strategically using police records, information from the National Crime Information Center database, and the claimant's deposition testimony, the summary judgment motion argued that there is no duty to report that property previously reported as stolen has been recovered, and the arbitrator agreed, entering judgment in favor of the client.
- Assisted in obtaining a favorable settlement after the Court granted a complete judgment of dismissal of an insurance coverage dispute seeking more than $700,000 in damages, plus bad faith and punitive damages. The strategy resolved the matter entirely for the client and avoided a lengthy and costly Ninth Circuit appellate proceeding filed by the plaintiff.

- Prosecuted and obtained permanent injunction, damages, and attorneys' fees and costs against client's former employee who photographed and published confidential and proprietary information, including social security numbers, medical information and attorney-client correspondence.
- Defended and secured summary judgment in favor of a debt collection agency against a Fair Debt Collection Practices Act (FDCPA) claim. Consumer alleged that the client used improper debt collection practices and failed to use proper disclosures in violation of the FDCPA. The successful summary judgment motion proved that the consumer's claims were both legally and factually unsupported.
- Assisted multi-office attorney team to prevent the implementation of a receiver and attempted foreclosure of client's newly developed recycling plant in Arizona. The team identified numerous suspicious financial transactions involving parties in several countries that were funneled through Miami entities, which led to the filing of a counterclaim alleging fraud, Civil RICO claims, and various business torts, in the existing Arizona action. That and a potential Federal Lawsuit to be brought in Miami against several related parties who resided both in the United States, and in Colombia, Venezuela, and the Dominican Republic, quickly led quickly to a favorable settlement for the client.
