Brian works in the firm's General Liability and Auto Trial Group, focusing in the areas of general civil defense, wrongful death, catastrophic personal injury, premises liability, first and third-party auto, and products liability. He has represented both small and large corporations in complex litigation, and has obtained favorable outcomes through motion practice, settlement negotiations, and trial. He is part of the Firm's Recruitment Committee, helps lead the Firm's Summer Associate Program, and sits on the New Lawyer Training committee for young associates at the Firm.

Brian is married to his college sweetheart, Bridget, who is an orthopedic surgeon. They were recently joined by their newborn son, Charlie. In his free time, Brian enjoys skiing and snowboarding in Lake Tahoe, hiking through the mountains of Arizona, spending time with his family and dog, and running half and full marathons. For a few weeks each summer, Brian travels to his uncle's ranch in Northern Colorado, where he helps wrangle cattle on horseback.
