Jaclyn Page recently joined our New Mexico office, where she will be handling a variety of matters including transportation, wrongful death/personal injury, construction, premises liability, government/municipal liability, and other general civil litigation for our clients. With a strong foundation in both legal theory and practical experience, Jaclyn is well-equipped to provide exceptional legal counsel.

Prior to joining our firm, Jaclyn gained valuable experience in insurance defense and litigation, financial arbitrations, consumer debt collection suits, and disability benefits matters. She also played a pivotal role in training junior associates and law clerks.

Jaclyn earned her JD from the University of New Mexico School of Law. She also holds a Bachelor of Arts in Political Science with a minor in Anthropology from the University of New Mexico. Jaclyn was a member of Phi Eta Sigma Honors Society, Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society, and the National Society of Collegiate Scholars, and graduated summa cum laude.

During her time at law school, Jaclyn demonstrated her commitment to underserved communities by working for the Southwest Indian Law Clinic and the Southwest Women's Law Center. Her dedication to public service was further exemplified during her tenure as a congressional intern for Senator Martin Heinrich, where she gained valuable insights into legislative processes and public policy.

In her spare time, Jaclyn likes to travel, write, and spend time with her family (including her dog, Cubbie!).
