Kristin Basha is an attorney in our Medical Malpractice Trial Group.

Before joining JSH, Kristin gained significant defense experience at Valley law firms where she handled matters involving medical malpractice defense, ski litigation, insurance defense, wrongful death and personal injury, premises liability, and professional liability. Throughout her 14-year career, Kristin has developed strong bonds with her clients. Kristin understands how personal litigation is for her clients and immediately empowers them to defend themselves where warranted. She has guided healthcare companies and providers through every aspect of malpractice litigation, from the investigation of claims to settlement negotiations to trials. Her experience includes defending and prosecuting complex medical malpractice claims and wrongful death claims involving healthcare providers, healthcare practitioners, urgent care facilities, pharmacies and prisons. She has also defended professional liability claims involving the Arizona State Board of Nursing and the Arizona Board of Chiropractic Examiners.

Kristin has also represented businesses and business owners in an array of commercial litigation, including restructuring business entities and negotiating settlements between former employers. In her insurance defense practice, she has overseen complex liability claims on behalf of excess insurance. During law school, Kristin worked as an extern for the Honorable Redfield T. Baum (then Chief Justice) in the U.S. Bankruptcy Court. She also participated in the Volunteer Lawyers Program, providing free legal assistance to low-income Arizonans.

Kristin's greatest joy in life is being a mother to her three amazing children. When she is not working, she is going on adventures with her family such as hiking or skiing. She loves to run, read, cook, listen to jazz music, watch movies, and travel. She escapes to the beach as much as she possibly can!

In light of one of her son's having a congenital heart defect that required open-heart surgery at a mere 10 days old (which he survived and is thriving from), Kristin and her husband pay it forward by fundraising for the cardiovascular unit at Arizona Phoenix Children's Hospital during Christmastime.

Kristin believes in the kind of leadership that lives by example and has a healthy appetite for competition from her former soccer years.
