Paul Davis focuses his practice primarily in the area of trucking and transportation defense. He also has experience handling complex commercial litigation cases.

Prior to joining JSH, Paul gained experience handling various business law matters, including drafting contracts and counseling clients on legal risk and strategy regarding corporate and commercial transactions. He also has employment law experience litigating violations of wage and benefit protections under the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA) and Employee Retirement Income Security Act (ERISA) as well as claims regarding workplace discrimination and retaliation under the Americans with Disabilities Act (ADA).

Paul also served as a legal extern for both the U.S. Department of Education's Office of the General Counsel and the American Civil Liberties Union of Arizona. In addition, he worked as a Rule 38 certified student attorney in ASU's Post-Conviction Law Clinic.

While earning his law degree at ASU, Paul authored a note, The Root of the Problem: Enforcing the Voting Rights Act in Modern Settings; was honored with CALI Awards for Post-Conviction Law Clinic and Wilderness Law and Policy; and served as an associate editor of the ASU Law Journal for Social Justice.

In his free time, Paul enjoys playing guitar, hiking, rock climbing, and taking any excuse to get outside.
