

STEVE BULLINGTON AND CORY TYSZKA OBTAIN UNANIMOUS DEFENSE VERDICT

February 7, 2017 | Case Summaries, News

Galano v. Tay – Jones, Skelton & Hochuli, PLC is pleased to announce Partner Steve

Bullington and Associate Cory Tyszka obtained a unanimous defense verdict for a medical malpractice case. This case involved allegations of medical malpractice arising from a penile prosthesis exchange procedure. Plaintiffs alleged that Defendant was negligent in leaving a fragment of tubing from the removed prosthesis in the Plaintiff's groin area, causing Plaintiff to suffer an infection, additional surgeries, and loss of employment. Defendant maintained that he met the standard of care in removing the prosthesis and that Plaintiff's infection was not caused by the fragment. Plaintiffs claimed $900,000 in damages due to pain and suffering, loss of consortium, lost wages, loss of enjoyment of life, medical bills, and expenses. The case was tried in Maricopa County Superior Court before the Honorable Susan Brnovich. After an eight day trial, the jury returned a unanimous defense verdict on February 2, 2017.
